Remnant Day--An Economy Opportunity.

TTRACTIVE and desirable values are to be found in every department throughout the store on Remnant Day. An exhaustive examination of all stocks weekly influences this repricing every Friday, and thus offers an opportunity for great savings on merchandise that is thoroughly seasonable, a great deal of which is strictly perfect. Many of the reductions are made solely because selling has reduced the assortments to odd lots, incomplete lines, odd colorings and sizes, one-of-a-kind effects in staple lines, etc., and everything that savors of imperfectness even in the slightest manner goes in at a greatly lessened price. The remnant list for tomorrow is particularly meritorious.
